Treaty 7 Land Acknowledgment

We acknowledge that the Haysboro Community Association is on Treaty 7 land—the traditional and ancestral territory of the Blackfoot Confederacy: Kainai, Piikani, and Siksika, as well as the Tsuu T'ina Nation and Stoney Nakoda First Nation. We acknowledge that this territory is home to the Métis Nation of Alberta, Region 3 within the historical Northwest Métis Homeland. We acknowledge the many First Nations, Métis, and Inuit who have lived in and cared for these lands for generations. We are grateful for the traditional Knowledge Keepers and Elders who are still with us today and those who have gone before us. We make this acknowledgement as an act of reconciliation and gratitude to those whose territory we reside on or are visiting.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Thankfully, this is a short month that makes any winter storm seem a tiny bit more bearable. The "newness" of the new year has faded, and 2023 is in full motion.

Red and pink is all around us (my favourite colours anyway) and many of us will be able to enjoy the first long weekend since the holidays to recharge a little.

The Haysboro Community Association continues to adjust with its new members.

Hall events, rentals, and community concerns continue to be discussed.

The timing of this writing and the moment it arrives on your doorstep is out of sync by a few weeks, but in case it's still relevant, we wanted to reach out and encourage people to come forward for paid work under the HCA. We may still be looking for weekend/relief cleaning and a part-time maintenance provider for the Hall.

More information is likely also listed in this newsletter and the emails that are sent out to members. Please do get in touch if either of these paid positions interest you!

Happy Family Day Haysboro!

OUR MISSION STATEMENT: The HCA, as a volunteer run organization, thoughtfully and constructively shapes our neighbourhood. We are innovative. We provide social and recreational programming; encourage and develop unique projects; and foster open dialogue with residents and stakeholders.

OUR VISION STATEMENT: A friendly, safe, and vibrant community of active and engaged residents.

Opinion Piece

by Fiona Swanson

Annalise Klingbeil and David Barrett wrote an opinion article on cbc.ca about whether community halls are worth the trouble of maintaining.

They write, “There’s so much more that Community Associations do — and could do — than worry about the hall.” They feel that the land would be better used for affordable housing rather than being a place where opportunities for residents to come together are created.

While I agree in principle that ‘yes’ community halls take up a lot of the Boards’ time, I don’t think that they should be gotten rid of carte blanche. They were built in a time when people got together to meet and socialize with neighbours, but also in a time when there was not a lot of choices — restaurants, office buildings, etc. for people to meet at.

The writers go on to say that “It’s a bizarre system. Why are volunteers — who often sign up for their local association boards to meet neighbours and build community — through murals, gardens, block parties, traffic calming measures, etc. tasked with running and maintaining city-owned buildings?”

Many people think that the Community Hall is funded by the City, but “The land and buildings are typically owned by the City of Calgary and leased to community associations for less than $1 per year under long-term contracts.”

With the exception of a grant of up to $300,000 per year to do, not upgrades, but like for like projects, the City does not provide any financial resources to the Community Associations.

Money for renovations and for furnishings like chairs, tables, etc. come from Federal and Provincial grants — but these pots are getting smaller and there are more fingers in them. Money from rentals, membership, fundraising, and casino payouts help to keep the lights on and the doors open — but that is a lot of bottles!

Community Halls should be hubs, or safe spaces with open doors for children to get warm while waiting for their parents after school, or look for help, or visit. Community Halls should be a place for preschools, and exercise classes, and Seniors groups. They are a great place to sit around the firepit and cook a hotdog after skating. A fun place to listen to a band play as people dance, or to sing Karaoke, or play Bingo, and so much more.

The City needs to find a new way to keep Community Halls going without taxing the very small volunteer pool that communities have and ensure lifecycle maintenance is being done so that these buildings don’t become dangerous liabilities.

LIVING DINOSAURS

Crocodiles have been roaming the earth for over 150 million years, which basically makes them living dinosaurs. One thing that has helped them to survive is their incredible bite force – the strongest in the entire animal kingdom! Amazingly, saltwater crocodiles have a bite force of 3,700 pounds per square inch, which is the strongest bite ever recorded!

An Exercise in Building Intimacy

by Nancy Bergeron, RPsych | info@nancybergeron.ca

The person we often crave to feel most known by is our partner. This is the person with whom we share the most intimate details of our lives. It's the person who sees us at our best and our worst. The one who knows our history and is a primary part of our future.

We want them to know us, to really know us, and these questions can help. Dr. Catron says, "Most of us think about love as something that happens to us, we fall and sometimes we get crushed. But what I like about this study is how it assumes that love is an action."

This activity should be done at a slow pace and should last at least 45 minutes.

Grab a couple of comfortable chairs and place them facing each other. Knees should be about a foot or so away from each other. Turn off phones and all other distractions.

1. Given the choice of anyone in the world, whom would you want as a dinner guest?
2. Would you like to be famous? In what way?
3. Before making a telephone call, do you ever rehearse what you are going to say? Why?
4. What would constitute a "perfect" day for you?
5. When did you last sing to yourself? To someone else?
6. If you were able to live to the age of 90 and retain either the mind or body of a 30-year-old for the last 60 years of your life, which would you want?
7. Do you have a secret hunch about how you will die?
8. Name three things you and your partner appear to have in common.
9. For what in your life do you feel most grateful?
10. If you could change anything about the way you were raised, what would it be?
11. Take four minutes and tell your partner your life story in as much detail as possible.
12. If you could wake up tomorrow having gained any one quality or ability, what would it be?
13. If a crystal ball could tell you the truth about yourself, your life, the future, or anything else, what would you want to know?
14. Is there something that you've dreamed of doing for a long time? Why haven't you done it?
15. What is the greatest accomplishment of your life?
16. What do you value most in a friendship?
17. What is your most treasured memory?
18. What is your most terrible memory?
19. If you knew that in one year you would die suddenly, would you change anything about the way you are now living? Why?
20. What does friendship mean to you?

21. What roles do love and affection play in your life?
22. Alternate sharing something you consider a positive characteristic of your partner. Share a total of five items.
23. How close and warm is your family? Do you feel your childhood was happier than most other people's?
24. How do you feel about your relationship with your mother?
25. Make three true "we" statements each. For instance, "We are both in this room feeling ____."
26. Complete this sentence: "I wish I had someone with whom I could share ____."
27. If you were going to become a close friend with your partner, please share what would be important for him or her to know.
28. Tell your partner what you like about them; be very honest this time, saying things that you might not say to someone you've just met.
29. Share with your partner an embarrassing moment in your life.
30. When did you last cry in front of another person? By yourself?
31. Tell your partner something that you like about them already.
32. What, if anything, is too serious to be joked about?
33. If you were to die this evening with no opportunity to communicate with anyone, what would you most regret not having told someone? Why haven't you told them yet?
34. Your house, containing everything you own, catches fire. After saving your loved ones and pets, you have time to safely make a final dash to save any one item. What would it be? Why?
35. Of all the people in your family, whose death would you find most disturbing? Why?
36. Share a personal problem and ask your partner's advice on how he or she might handle it. Also, ask your partner to reflect back to you how you seem to be feeling about the problem you have chosen.

Now that you are done asking and answering questions, look into each other's eyes for four minutes (try not to giggle too much).

The formal activity is complete. Now, talk about how this exercise made you both feel.

EDITOR'S NOTE

2023 seems so futuristic – I am almost equal age on either side of the new century! The new year always makes us reminisce a bit and look back and see how things have changed in the world around us – and I suppose how we have changed.

In University, I worked at Woolco; fortunately, my graduation coincided with the coming of Walmart, so I left before the takeover. I did my best to never shop there and had very little reason to, especially as I lived in small towns that did not have one. I chose to shop locally.

I still choose to shop local, to support small businesses, but it is becoming increasingly difficult as expenses go up and pay cheques don't. Difficult for owners as rents go up and business doesn't.

Just over the last year, the small plaza on Elbow saw El Greco and a microbrewery open – but sadly said goodbye to long time tenant and Haggis supplier to Southern Alberta. (Fortunately, they have relocated under a new name).

I was very sad to see Maria and her family have to close the doors to Greenhills Convenience Store due to rising rent and other business costs (including damage from break-ins). We wish them all the best in their next endeavour.

Who knows what changes 2023 will bring. But hopefully it brings all things good!
