CAMBRIAN HEIGHTS' PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

September brings a new season of events and programs to our community, while cooler weather begins to paint our parks and surrounding green spaces with fall colours.

To kick off the new season, The Social Committee has planned a family-friendly Oktoberfest BBQ on Saturday, September 26, from 1:00 to 4:00 pm. Enjoy outdoor games, face painting, a live band, beer garden, and traditional German-style pretzels and bratwurst. We encourage everyone to attend. It's a great way to welcome a new season of community activity at the hall.

Upcoming annual events, including Halloween activities, our Lego Contest, and the Polar Party, will be featured on our website and in future newsletter editions.

For more than 15 years, our Wednesday evening yoga program has offered themes inspired by a variety of yoga traditions and movement practices. Please see the poster in this newsletter for registration details about September through to December classes. We also support square dancing programs on weekday evenings. For more information, contact our Hall Manager at chca_hall@telus.net.

Our Farmers Market will continue into early fall, offering fresh produce, baked goods, prepared meals, jams, condiments, and other fresh and unique food products. The market has been a great success for both the community and vendors. As a reminder, it runs every Tuesday until October 6 from 3:00 to 7:00 pm in the Community Hall parking lot. We would also like to remind residents that the group displaying Alberta Prosperity Project materials at the market entryway is independent of the Farmers Market and Community Association and does not represent the views of either organization.

In late July, our community joined many others across Calgary in hoping for a safe outcome to the search for 11-year-old Parker. The search touched many members of our community and brought neighbours together in a shared effort to help find him and support his family. There were many residents who volunteered their time, participated in organized searches and demonstrated such genuine care and concern throughout this difficult period. While the outcome was heartbreaking, the community's response reflected the compassion and generosity that make Cambrian Heights such a special place to live. We extend our sincere condolences to Parker's family and friends.

Thank you to those who took the time to complete our member experience survey. The survey is now closed. We will review the feedback and provide an update later this year.

Finally, we remind residents that the Community Hall is available for birthday parties, weddings, anniversaries and other social events. The hall can accommodate up to 150 guests and includes tables, chairs and a full commercial-grade kitchen. Photos and rental information are available on our website. For more details, please contact us through the website.

MOON FESTIVAL

The Moon Festival, or Mid-Autumn Festival, takes place on September 25 this year. This is the second most celebrated Chinese holiday bringing good fortune and prosperity. Often celebrated by eating moon cakes, lighting lanterns and gathering for large family meals, the celebration dates back over 3,000 years and has variations that are celebrated all over East and Southeast Asia.

ROSEMONT PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Howdy Rosemontians!

It is hard to believe that summer is coming to an end just about as quickly as it started.

Kick off the new school year with us at our free community BBQ — a great chance to catch up with familiar faces and meet some new ones! Join us Friday, September 11, at 6:00 pm for burgers, hot dogs, outdoor games for the kids, and good company with your neighbours.

This event is free for Rosemont residents with a free annual membership ($5/meal for Associate members). Please RSVP only if you genuinely plan to attend — last year, 30% of RSVPs didn't show up, which makes planning difficult for our volunteers.

Visit RosemontYYC.com/BBQ to RSVP — it'll sign you up for your 2026 to 2027 membership at the same time! Everyone who lives in Rosemont is welcome, whether you've been here 50 days or 50 years.

We're always looking for better ways to connect with residents and share what's happening in our community. One way we do this is by amplifying the voices of groups with long-term leases at our hall, businesses owned by Rosemontians, and various city-driven initiatives.

We also receive a lot of requests from outside organizations wanting to promote their events or programs — everything from seniors' programs and university studies to wildlife activities and sports and social programs. We try to be selective about what we share, for a couple of reasons.

First, we have a responsibility to the community to make sure the things that matter most to our residents get the most visibility. If we shared everything that came our way, the truly important stuff would get lost in the noise. Second, reviewing, vetting, and managing this volume of information takes real work — and we simply don't have the volunteer capacity to do it justice.

That said, we recognize there's value in helping share these opportunities when we can. If you have ideas for how we might do that better, we'd love to hear them — please reach out and let us know.

As always, keep looking after family, your neighbours and yourselves. Have a great summer everyone!

YOUR CITY OF CALGARY

Discover, Experience and Celebrate Arts and Culture This September

by The City of Calgary

Calgary Culture Days is back this month—and the city is ready to celebrate. From September 1 to 30, Calgary comes alive with creativity, connection, and the vibrant arts and culture experiences that make our city so special.

Think film screenings, art exhibitions, live performances, festivals, and hands-on experiences—all happening in neighbourhoods across the city. Whether you're bringing the kids, planning a date night, or meeting up with friends, there's always something to discover. Even better, many events are free and family-friendly, making it easy to jump in and explore.

Calgary Culture Days celebrates the artists, organizations, and communities that shape our city's thriving arts and culture scene. It's a chance to connect with local talent, experience different cultures, and see Calgary from a fresh perspective. Behind every event are community members bringing ideas to life—helping make Calgary a more creative, connected, and vibrant place to live.

Start exploring events happening across the city this September at calgary.ca/culturedays.

Square Dancing — It's Coming Back

There is an almost endless array of activities for all of us to take part in these days. Let me tell you a bit about a choice I made that I am still enjoying years after taking lessons.

As a newcomer to Calgary in 2014, I was looking for a place to meet people, be active, and be accepted as a single person. Living on a limited income, it also had to be affordable. Low and behold—modern westerns square dancing checked off all the criteria!

One of the best parts about square dancing is its inclusiveness. Young, old, or differently abled, square dancing offers an opportunity for people from all paths to learn from one another.

Any kind of dancing will give you a workout, and square dancing is no exception! If you can move within the square and follow instructions, you can be a great square dancer. There are no complicated moves or fast-paced cardio to keep up with. If you can move forward and back, left and right, you're well on your way to being a pro.

One of the things I was concerned about was the costume you see in pictures and at the Stampede; big fluffy skirts with crinolines, bolo ties, and cowboy boots. While many dancers enjoy getting dolled up in their traditional attire, it's certainly not required and not what I wear. The most important part of your square dance attire will always be your dancing shoes—no matter what style they are!

As for the music all that's needed is a strong beat—we dance to everything from pop to classical, country to Broadway show tunes, and sometime there is a bit of fiddle music.

I invite you to consider checking out the fun you can have dancing or learning to modern western square dance in Calgary.

Trish, an enthusiastic square dancer.

Hey, neighbour!

While this September promises a few more great weeks of weather, it also means kids going back to school. Over the summer my office has heard from many parents who are concerned about the safety of their children. They want safe routes to school, with more crosswalks and safe ways to cross roads along those routes.

This September I plan on bringing forward a notice of motion before council to introduce safer timing for pedestrian cross lights at intersections. This motion, if passed, will improve safety for pedestrians and provide more certainty for drivers by ensuring that there is less conflict for people crossing roads and turning through intersections. We know that distraction is frequently the cause for traffic collisions, and this motion will reduce conflict between pedestrians and vehicles using the same part of the road at the same time.

This is one way that I am working towards addressing the pedestrian danger crisis in our city, but it isn't the only way. I have been working with the City of Calgary's mobility department to improve safety on some of the most dangerous roads in Ward 4. I also co-sponsored a motion that would allow additional locations for rapid flashing beacons each year.

Though, we can do more, and I want your feedback on what my office can do to even further improve traffic safety. From new turning lights, pedestrian rapid flashing beacons, speed signs, speed bumps, or more, I want to hear from you about what makes sense to make your street safer. You can email me at any time at ward4@calgary.ca.

In the meantime, please slow down and watch for cars and pedestrians, and let's make this the safest back to school September ever for Ward 4.

Lately, it has become fashionable to glorify independence and the idea of being entirely self-made. Success is often treated as something earned through individual effort alone, with little recognition of the people and systems that make it possible. In reality, nobody achieves anything without the help of others. As Mr. Rogers famously said, when times are tough, "look for the helpers." The truth is that we all rely on those helpers every day.

None of us succeeds alone. From the day we are born, our lives are shaped by the care, work, and support of others. Teachers help children learn and grow. Doctors, nurses, and caregivers help us heal when we are sick. Friends and family stand beside us in moments of joy and grief.

Beyond what we see every day, there are countless others whose work makes our lives possible. Farmers grow our food. Construction workers build our homes, schools, and roads. Transit operators, cleaners, retail employees, and service workers keep our communities running. Society simply could not function without them.

This interdependence is not a weakness. It is one of our greatest strengths. When people work together, communities become safer, healthier, and more resilient. That is why public education, universal health care, and strong social programs matter. They reflect a simple belief: everyone deserves dignity, opportunity, and support when life becomes difficult.

The real measure of a strong society is not how many people can stand alone. It is how well we stand together. Every achievement, large or small, is built on the efforts of others. Recognizing that truth does not diminish individual success. It reminds us that our greatest accomplishments are possible because we support one another, and because we are, in many ways, in each other's care.

This summer has been marked by Calgary receiving federal dollars for two exciting projects: the Olympic Oval at the University of Calgary and Contemporary Calgary. I was proud to take part in both announcements, which demonstrate the federal infrastructure investments being made in Alberta.

One of the ways we strengthen communities is by investing in sport. Creating more opportunities for Calgarians to play, train, and proudly wear the maple leaf on the world stage brings us together and inspires all generations.

To that end, I was proud to have advocated for federal funding to come to the University of Calgary's Olympic Oval, which received up to $26 million through the Build Communities Strong Fund. This investment will support the rehabilitation and modernization of the Oval—a legendary facility that hosted the 1988 Olympic Winter Games and remains home to the fastest ice in the world. It has nurtured generations of Olympic medallists and world-record holders, and this funding secures its long-term operation and accessibility for years to come. More than an elite training centre, the Oval is a community hub that keeps Calgary's reputation as a world-class sporting city strong.

Contemporary Calgary received up to $40 million through the Build Communities Strong Fund. This investment will transform our historic Centennial Planetarium—home to Contemporary Calgary—into one of Canada's leading destinations for contemporary art, education, and community gathering. Expanding public access to the arts, creating a new gallery, education spaces, and revitalizing Calgary's Downtown West End, all while preserving one of our city's most recognizable landmarks through adaptive reuse.

Projects such as these enhance connectivity in our community and drive economic growth. Infrastructure is the foundation of healthy and prosperous communities, and of a strong Canada.

From our ice to our galleries, these investments will Build Calgary Strong.

I am honoured to be your MP,

Corey Hogan

News from the Friends of Nose Hill

by Anne Burke

A Nose Hill supporter told me there used to be a plaque in memory of John Lee Laurie at the Brisebois parking lot entrance to Nose Hill Park (Many Owls parking area). It appears that the plaque has now gone missing. He said, "Do you happen to know what happened to it and whether there are any plans for it to be reinstalled in the future?" I responded that my city contact would ask our Infrastructure folks to see if they knew.

A colleague did walk over to read the plaque once, but that was many years ago. It spoke of the help Laurie gave to First Nations. The official name of Mount Yamnuska is Mount John Laurie, but he has no knowledge of the installation of the plaque. When I chaired the Nose Hill Park Management Advisory Committee, the John Laurie Rock Society obtained the City's permission to install the boulder that was moved during construction of the roadway.

John Lee Laurie (1899-1959) was a prominent educator and political activist in Calgary, best known for First Nations advocacy. From 1944 to 1956, he was the honorary secretary of the Indian Association of Alberta. When adopted by the Stoney Nakoda Nations, he was named "White Cloud" and recognized by having a major Calgary roadway and a Canadian Rockies peak named after him. Mount Yamnuska was officially renamed at the request of the Stoney Nakoda First Nation in 1961. Its original Stoney Nakoda name, Îyâmnathka, combines root words of "mountain" and "flat", so "flat-faced mountain". In 1979, concerned citizens collected over 5,000 signatures on a petition and on the Sunday before Monday's Council meeting, marched along John Laurie Blvd in defence of Nose Hill Park. City Council voted against any development rezoning of Nose Hill Park lands.
