EVENTS MESSAGE

Summer is one of my favourite times of the year—a season filled with celebrations, family gatherings, friendships, and new adventures. The longer days and warmer weather provide the perfect opportunity to connect with neighbours, enjoy the outdoors, and create lasting memories with the people who matter most.

Our community embraced the spirit of summer in a big way at this year's Neighbour Day Carnival, and what an incredible success it was! The event brought together residents of all ages for an evening packed with laughter, entertainment, and family fun. It was truly heartwarming to see so many neighbours come together to celebrate the vibrant and welcoming spirit that makes Hidden Valley such a special place to call home. The carnival grounds were buzzing with excitement from the moment the festivities began. Children and adults alike tested their luck and skills at a variety of colourful carnival games, with plenty of smiles, cheers, and friendly competition throughout the evening. The enthusiasm and energy of our guests created a festive atmosphere that was felt across the entire event. One of the highlights of the evening was the opportunity for guests to participate in circus training. Watching children and adults challenge themselves, learn new skills, and discover hidden talents was both inspiring and entertaining. The excitement continued throughout the evening with incredible performances that captivated audiences of all ages. Our talented trapeze performers amazed spectators with their skill, grace, and daring aerial displays. Delighting our guests and creating memorable photo opportunities, while the breathtaking fire dancers lit up the evening sky with a spectacular performance that left everyone in awe. As the sun set, families settled in with blankets and lawn chairs to enjoy a twilight movie under the stars. It was the perfect ending to a day dedicated to community spirit, connection, and fun.

Events such as our Neighbour Day Carnival would not be possible without the support of our volunteers, sponsors, community partners, Board Members, and dedicated residents. Their hard work, enthusiasm, and commitment helped create an event that brought joy to hundreds of people. On behalf of the Hidden Valley Community Association, I extend my sincere gratitude to everyone who contributed their time and talents to make this event such a tremendous success. As we continue to enjoy the summer months, I encourage everyone to take advantage of the beautiful weather, spend time with family and friends, and participate in the many activities our community has to offer. Together, we continue to build a strong, caring, and vibrant neighbourhood. Thank you to everyone who joined us for Neighbour Day. I look forward to seeing you at future community events and creating even more wonderful memories together.

Word of the Month

Syzygy: noun (si-zuh-jee)

A nearly straight line-up of three celestial bodies in a gravitational system.

During an eclipse, the Earth, moon, and sun align to form a syzygy.

July in the Parks

July in Alberta brings long sunny days, warm evenings, and plenty of opportunities to enjoy the beautiful parks and pathways throughout Hidden Valley and Hanson Ranch. As the Parks Director for the Hidden Valley Community Association (HVCA), I encourage residents to take advantage of the outdoor spaces that make our community special.

Some of my personal favourite spots include the trailhead near Hidden Valley Drive and Hidden Park, as well as the Hanson Ranch Wetlands trails. Whether you enjoy walking, biking, jogging, or simply relaxing outdoors, our parks offer a great way to stay active and connected with nature during the summer season.

July is also a wonderful time to gather with neighbours, spend time with family and friends, and enjoy community events happening throughout the area. With school out and the weather at its best, our parks become an important place for connection, recreation, and wellness.

I encourage everyone to explore a new pathway, visit a local playground, or enjoy a quiet moment outdoors this month. If you capture a beautiful summer moment in one of our parks, feel free to share it on Facebook and tag hiddenvalleyhansonranch (Hidden Valley Community Association).

If you have recommendations for park improvements, future events, or ideas to help enhance our green spaces, please feel free to contact me at parks@hiddenvalleyhansonranch.org.

Wishing everyone a safe and enjoyable July!

Message from Communications

One of the best parts of living in Hidden Valley and Hanson Ranch is the people who make this community feel like home.

The Hidden Valley Community Association (HVCA) Communications Team is currently looking to feature neighbours, families, local stories, community initiatives, hobbies, achievements, and small businesses in upcoming editions of the community newsletter.

Do you have a story to share? Know a neighbour doing something interesting? Have photos from a community event, a local project, or a seasonal activity in the neighbourhood? We would love to hear from you.

Our goal is to continue building a newsletter that reflects the people, experiences, and connections that make our community unique. Submissions from residents and HVCA members are always welcome.

To submit a story idea, photos, announcements, or community highlights, please contact Kim J. at communications@hiddenvalleyhansonranch.org.

We look forward to featuring more of the amazing people who help make Hidden Valley and Hanson Ranch such a vibrant community.

News from the Friends of Nose Hill

by Anne Burke

Long before I lived in Hidden Valley and Hanson Ranch, I would purposely drive through the area, even if it meant taking the longer route. There was just something about it – it felt calmer, greener, and more peaceful. I remember thinking, “One day, I’d love to live here.”

Now, after years of calling this community home, I still feel grateful every time I turn into the neighbourhood. As a realtor, I spend my days all over Calgary and the surrounding communities, but Hidden Valley and Hanson Ranch continue to hold a special place in my heart.

This has been an incredible place to raise my son, who started kindergarten here and is now heading into Grade 8. From the parks and pathways to the schools and neighbours, this community offers a true sense of connection and belonging.

What makes this area special is not just where it is, but how it feels, peaceful, welcoming, and deeply connected. I’m proud to call Hidden Valley and Hanson Ranch home.

Helena Berman

As I write, it is Calgary Aboriginal Awareness Week. In 1979, the Native Urban Affairs Committee was established to represent Aboriginal issues and concerns. In 1987, the name was changed to the Calgary Aboriginal Urban Affairs Committee. I was contacted by a grade nine Math and Social Studies teacher who wanted to plan a tour of Nose Hill by a First Nations guide. There are a few documents related to the protocol for inviting Indigenous Elders. If you are in the Calgary area and need to connect with an Elder or Knowledge Keeper, you can consult the City of Calgary Indigenous Collaboration policy or the CBE Indigenous Education Protocol for local guidance. In First Nations, Métis, and Inuit cultures, the Elders are leaders, teachers, role models, and mentors. The CBE Indigenous Education team has kept wisdom and teachings shared orally from Elders and community Knowledge Keepers for several years. The CBE document represents a summary of those teachings. It also includes knowledge gained from other organizations and districts. The Alberta Teachers Association offers a guide to accompany the Association’s Stepping Stones, Truth and Reconciliation resources. Crystal Manyfingers and her family are all members of the Kainai Nation of the great Blackfoot Confederacy who signed Treaty 7 in 1877. Crystal holds a B.A., B.Ed., and a Master’s degree in Education (Adult and Workplace Learning) from the University of Calgary. She has written numerous magazine articles, published a children’s book, and was awarded the Faculty of the Year Award for 2020 from Bow Valley College as a Learning Design Consultant for Indigenization and Decolonization of Curriculum, Research, and Innovation. Crystal serves on the Board of Directors for the Calgary Public Library as well as the Alberta Library Trustees Association.

BIG HISTORY, LITTLE ARMS

Dating Safely: Recognizing the Red Flags of an Unsafe Relationship

by Nancy Bergeron, R.Psych. | info@nancybergeron.ca

Dating can be exciting. However, it's a time when we overlook warning signs because our attraction leads us to want to believe the best about someone. According to security expert and author Gavin de Becker in his bestselling book The Gift of Fear, our intuition is one of our greatest tools for recognizing danger. Learning to trust our instincts and identify red flags can help us avoid unhealthy or unsafe relationships before they become deeply established.

One of de Becker's central messages is that fear is not something to dismiss. It is valuable information. Many people who later experienced emotional abuse, coercion, or violence report that they had an uneasy feeling early on but talked themselves out of it. Rather than ignoring these feelings, de Becker encourages us to pay attention to them.

A common red flag is boundary violations. Healthy people respect your "no," your need for space, and your personal preferences. An unsafe person may repeatedly push your boundaries while disguising their persistence as affection or determination. One of de Becker's most important observations is that when someone ignores a small "no," they are often testing whether they can ignore a larger one later.

Another warning sign is forced teaming. This occurs when someone creates an artificial sense of connection by speaking as though you are already a team. Statements such as "We're exactly alike," "No one understands me like you do," or "We're in this together" early in a relationship may be attempts to accelerate trust and intimacy before it has naturally developed.

Becker also describes the danger of love bombing, where a person overwhelms you with attention, gifts, praise, or declarations of love very early in dating. While genuine affection develops gradually, love bombing often creates pressure to reciprocate feelings that have not had time to develop authentically.

Another tactic he identifies is charm versus genuineness. Genuine people do not need to work hard to convince you they are good people. Excessive charm, flattery, and polished behaviour can sometimes be used to lower your guard. As de Becker notes, charm is often a strategy intended to persuade, while genuine kindness expects nothing in return.

Watch for loan sharking, another concept from The Gift of Fear. This occurs when someone does favours, buys gifts, or provides help that you did not ask for, then expects gratitude, access, attention, or compliance in return. Healthy generosity is freely given without creating a sense of obligation.

Becker also discusses typecasting, a manipulation tactic where someone makes a subtle negative comment in order to provoke you into proving them wrong. For example, "You're probably too busy to talk," or "You seem like someone who wouldn't give people a chance." The goal is often to influence your behaviour by triggering a need to defend yourself.

The most important lesson from The Gift of Fear is simple: trust your instincts. If you feel pressured, confused, manipulated, or unsafe, you do not need to justify those feelings. Your intuition exists to protect you. Healthy relationships feel respectful, safe, and consistent. When something feels off, listen to that inner voice, it recognizes danger before your conscious mind can explain it.

Nose Creek Watchers

Community stepping into the watershed collecting valuable data that keeps an eye on the health of the Nose Creek watershed.

by Kristina Stephens, NCPS Council Member

Since 2023, the Nose Creek Preservation Society has been testing the waters of Nose Creek in partnership with the Alberta RiverWatch Institute's CreekWatch program. CreekWatch empowers citizen scientists to perform water quality tests and sample invertebrate diversity to provide the institute with valuable information on the health of our waterways.

Our scientifically accurate data is shared with the government and conservation organizations, which can aid in supporting sustainable watershed management. Our hope is that information we have been gathering about Nose Creek will aid in its preservation, especially in the wake of future developments.

Volunteers test the water on a weekly basis throughout the summer months (May to October). Tests are designed so that anyone can follow the step-by-step sampling guide, and gather accurate water quality data that includes:

- pH,
- dissolved oxygen,
- chloride,
- phosphates,
- ammonia,
- and turbidity.

There is a thing as too salty.

As a freshwater water source, Nose Creek should naturally have very little salt. However, the draining from agricultural fields and roadways within Nose Creek's thousand square kilometre watershed area has increased the salinity of the watershed. This has been shown through one of our most important water metrics, chlorine.

This increase in chlorine data has been evident at our 15 Street Bridge testing location in Northeast Calgary. It has consistently been above the 120mg/mL maximum that the Alberta Surface Waters' Environmental Quality Guidelines recommends for maintaining a healthy freshwater ecosystem. Increased salinity reduces the health of Nose Creek and will impact the plant, fish, and invertebrate diversity in the creek over time.

CreekWatch teams also sample for diversity of invertebrates, such as insects, snails, clams, and worms, where their presence, or lack thereof, as well as their abundance are important indicators of the quality of the water. Using a fine mesh sieve to catch invertebrates floating in the water and those that are stirred up from the creek bed, we identify and roughly count invertebrates that are present such as:

- caddisfly larvae,
- midges,
- water boatman,
- and the invasive Northern Crayfish.

Thankfully our team has been finding several types of pollution-sensitive invertebrates in Nose Creek, which indicates that the water is healthy enough for them to live and reproduce.

The more we know, the better choices we can make along the Nose Creek Watershed.

Our dream is to have several testing locations along the trajectory of both West Nose Creek and Nose Creek to monitor how the water quality is changing overtime, but we need an army of volunteers to make that dream a reality!

So far, our only active testing site is the 15 Street Bridge in Calgary, but we would love to have a consistent testing location in Airdrie in the Nose Creek Regional Park; where West Nose Creek meets Nose Creek in West Nose Creek Park; and at the confluence of Nose Creek and the Bow River by the Wilder Institute Calgary Zoo.

If you are interested in volunteering with our Creek Watch team, you can sign up on our website savenosecreek.com/creek-watch. We would love to see you out on the creek!

Support Victoria Fortuna and Her Family After a Tragic Highway Accident

In the early evening of February 8, 2026, the Fortuna family's life was forever altered by a devastating and senseless accident.

Victoria, a 21-year-old student at MacEwan University, and her father, Paul Fortuna, 53 years old, were the innocent victims of a horrific and tragic vehicle accident that occurred in Edmonton, Alberta. Sadly, her father, Paul, succumbed to his injuries at the scene, and Victoria has been left with catastrophic, life-threatening, and life-altering injuries. She is currently fighting for her life and receiving critical medical care at the University Hospital in Edmonton.

Donate to this GoFundMe by scanning the QR code to help ease the inconceivable financial hardship the Fortuna family is facing. The family is deeply grateful for the kindness, prayers, and support they have already received. Your generosity, through a donation or by sharing this GoFundMe, will allow them to focus on supporting their beloved Victoria through her long recovery journey. It takes a village and every donation counts.

Thank you for standing with them during this unimaginably difficult time.
