She is currently fighting for her life and receiving critical medical care at the University Hospital in Edmonton.

Calgary is a city that builds, competes, volunteers, and shows up. That is why I was pleased to see the Spring Economic Update include $755 million in sports funding. This investment will help more kids and families become active, support community programs and facilities, and back the world-class athletes who make Canadians proud.

Sport is community-building. It is where youth learn teamwork, where families connect, and where local organizations create belonging — on fields, rinks, courts, and tracks.

The update also includes measures that matter for affordable housing in Calgary. At Midfield Heights, 176 new homes received $20 million through the Alberta Housing Partnership Program, part of a ten-year, $678 million cost-matched investment to get homes built for Albertans. These are safe, affordable homes made possible through partnership, showing what happens when governments and community organizations work together to move housing from idea to reality.

The Spring Economic Update continues that work nationally, with measures to unlock new housing supply, accelerate low-cost financing for rental homes, support factory-built housing, and help provinces and territories remove construction barriers. For Calgary families, that means more homes, more options, and stronger, more connected communities.

There is also support for workers and young people, including Team Canada Strong, which will help train and hire the skilled trades we need for housing, infrastructure, and major projects. The update builds on 175,000 employment and work-integrated learning opportunities through Canada Summer Jobs, the Youth Employment and Skills Strategy, and the Student Work Placement Program.

For Calgary, these measures mean stronger communities, more affordable homes, more opportunities for youth, and better pathways into skilled trades. As your MP, my focus is making sure federal policy keeps delivering to build a Calgary, Alberta, and Canada strong for all of us.
