SENIOR CONNECTIONS

For seniors related support, information, or volunteering, contact Debbie at 403-283-0554, ext. 224 (and leave a message) or email debbie.o@hsca.ca. We appreciate any opportunity to connect with you! Visit HSCA's Seniors page for more information and updated Zoom links at www.hsca.ca/seniors.

Snow Removal

If you are clearing your own sidewalks or helping a neighbour in the community, please remember to take care and keep the following in mind.

The heavy snow can be difficult to lift and move; the colder weather means our blood vessels constrict, making the blood flow more restricted, which can drive up our blood pressure and lead to a heart attack. The heart attack does not always happen while removing the snow. It can come later in the day. Even the most active and healthy individual can be at risk.

Instead of lifting the snow shovel, try to push the snow out of the way, or put less snow on the shovel if you must lift it. This will take longer, but it is a safer way of clearing the snow. Take a break, especially if you are finding yourself getting out of breath. It doesn't hurt to take a break.

Dress appropriately for the weather. Use layers, mittens (better than gloves or wear gloves under your mittens) to keep your hands warm. Take a break to warm up if needed.

If you are a senior and cannot clear your sidewalk, or if you know a senior who needs some help with this, please connect with Debbie.

If you would like to help a senior in the community remove their snow this winter, please connect with Debbie. This will help improve the safety of all community residents during the winter snowfalls.

Monday Connections: Senior Support (Online) 10:00 to 11:00 am

If you are a senior and would like to connect about anything related to seniors join us online. Connect with Debbie for more information and to get the Zoom link.

If you would like to volunteer with seniors, are looking for information, have questions or would like to explore more about how we can have a positive connection and/or impact on seniors in our community, you can also connect with me on Mondays using the same link."

YOUR CITY OF CALGARY

Reduce Your Waste During the Gift-Giving Season

by the City of Calgary

Repurpose, reuse, and get creative to reduce your waste this holiday season. Here are some ideas for gift giving that are low on waste but highly meaningful:

- Support local businesses by purchasing gift cards or giving the gift of an experience.
- Give a gift in the form of a donation to a favourite charity.
- Give the gift of time. Lend a hand to an older relative or friend by dropping off their shopping or meals or putting their carts out on collection day.
- Make your own gifts – try knitting a hat, painting a canvas, or baking.
- Recyclables make great material for Christmas crafts and cards.
- Consider alternative ways to wrap gifts. Reuse bags and boxes that you already have at home. Use cloth bags, tea towels, a T-shirt, or simply avoid wrapping completely.

Find more tips at calgary.ca/recyclerright.

Safely Dispose of Household Batteries

Don't put any kind of battery in your blue, green, or black carts. Batteries contain metals like lead, lithium, cadmium, and mercury that can be dangerous to human health and the environment. If they end up in any of your carts, batteries can get crushed and cause fires at the recycling, composting, and landfill facilities. Household batteries include non-rechargeable alkaline batteries (AA and AAA) and rechargeable batteries found in cellphones, laptops, and cordless power tools.

Safely dispose of batteries by taking them to a participating retailer for free recycling. For more information visit calgary.ca/battery.

Building Social and Community Life: English Influence in Hillhurst Sunnyside

This is an excerpt from the Hillhurst Sunnyside Historical Context paper, 'Building Social and Community Life: Social, Intellectual and Ethnic Cultural Life (pp. 76-92). For more on the history of our neighborhood, check out the full paper: <https://www.hasca.ca/historical-context-paper>.

The threads of ethnic English and Scottish traditions that ran through the early cultural life of Hillhurst-Sunnyside began with the area's pioneers and developers whose families had roots in those two homelands and brought the customs of those countries to their new home.

The Englishness of Hillhurst was clearly shaped by the vision of its pioneer landowner and developer, Ezra Riley, whose father Thomas came from Derbyshire, England, and whose mother Georgiana from the small town of Kirton in Lindsey, in North Lincolnshire, England. Both Ezra's original 1904 subdivision and its 1906 addition employed street names that referenced English place names including Oxford, Gladstone, Buckingham, Norfolk, and Essex. When his mother, Georgiana Riley, registered Upper Hillhurst in 1906 she also used street names with English references like Marlborough and Wellington streets and others named for the British Royal family.

English roots are also evident in Col Lawrence Herchmer's 1907 Westmont subdivision which had original street names like Cambridge, Devenish, and Beveridge. Herchmer descended from a prominent Kingston, Ontario family of United Empire Loyalists whose arrival in North America dates to the 18th century. As a result, he was born and received most of his education in England.

The Church of England (Anglican Church) also featured conspicuously in Hillhurst, with Morleyville Road named for the Anglican Mission at Morley, and after 1906, with St Barnabas Church and churchyard. In 1912 Ezra gifted a new brick-clad St Barnabas Church to the parish. As well, an Anglican boy's school, the Bishop Pinkham College (the site that would be used for health care), was built just north of Hillhurst School. The architect responsible for these ecclesiastical buildings was Leo Dowler (1876 to 1921), an Anglican himself as well as a Sunnyside resident.

One of Calgary's most prolific early architects, Dowler was born in Kingston, Ontario where he trained in architecture, arriving in Calgary in 1899. He first worked in carpentry before establishing his architecture practice in 1905. He worked with a variety of partners before returning to independent practice, during which time he also served as the Dominion Government's resident architect in Calgary. Leo married pioneer Samuel Livingston's daughter Mary in 1904, and designed and built their 1911 home 88 where they raised their large, growing family. His other works in and near the community include Hillhurst School, Ezra Riley's Hillhurst estate home, Alfred's Riley's Lodge in Parkdale, landowner AJ McArthur's Crescent Heights residence and - just across today's Mewata Bridge - the Mewata Armory. Although he is responsible for numerous historic resources in the city, only Hillhurst School and St Barnabas Church tower remain of his Hillhurst-Sunnyside works.

Perhaps the most unusual English influence to find in a North American community is the cricket field, also a legacy of Ezra. He donated the land for a City park, Riley Park, in 1910 and in 1919 he asked parks superintendent William Reader to install cricket pitches in the park. He also requested that cricket be the only team sport to be played in Riley Park. Another English custom - 'afternoon tea' - played out every Sunday at Riley Park, when it was served at the cricket club house.

The game of cricket in Riley Park where the Calgary and District Cricket League are currently based, and worship in St Barnabas Church of England, are enduring examples of intangible cultural heritage that have been practiced for over a century.

Help Is Here

Many Canadians find the holidays to be challenging, with more than half of Canadians saying that the holiday season can be a source of anxiety, depression, and loneliness. Fortunately, this holiday season accessing help has become easier. Beginning November 30, Canadians in crisis from coast-to-coast will be able to call or text 9-8-8 and obtain counselling free of charge.

This new three-digit number aims to provide accessible and timely support to individuals in crisis, offering hope and saving lives. I was proud to vote in favour of establishing this hotline when my Conservative colleague, Member of Parliament Todd Doherty, introduced it in 2020. Since then, Canadians have waited years for 9-8-8 to be implemented; during this time, the COVID-19 pandemic highlighted the importance of accessible mental health resources.

This easily remembered number allows individuals in distress to swiftly connect with trained professionals. 9-8-8 operates 24/7, providing immediate assistance and reducing barriers that may prevent someone from reaching out for help. Regardless of socio-economic status or geography, 9-8-8 allows for better access to support.

The Centre for Addiction and Mental Health led the coordination of services for 9-8-8 with input from Provinces and Territories, Indigenous partners, crisis services, mental health experts, individuals with lived experience, and public safety officials. 9-8-8 will save the lives of Canadians who feel they have nowhere else to turn. By providing accessible, empathetic, and immediate support, this hotline serves as a beacon of hope, reducing the barriers to seeking help and saving lives.

If you or a loved one are struggling with your mental health, know that help is more accessible than ever. Please do not hesitate to call or text 9-8-8 any time you need mental health crisis or suicide prevention intervention and be sure to share this information with anyone who may be struggling.
