Winter Tips to Keep Our Rivers Healthy

by The City of Calgary

When snow melts, water runs off our streets, driveways, and yards, and ultimately ends up in our rivers, creeks, and wetlands. This runoff is called stormwater. Stormwater picks up garbage, chemicals, pet waste, salt, gravel, dirt, and other debris, washing it into our storm drains and our rivers.

The City of Calgary and Calgarians need to work together to manage our stormwater. In newer communities, The City uses storm ponds to help naturally treat stormwater by slowing the flow, allowing sediment and pollution to settle before entering our rivers. While these are found in newer communities, stormwater is not cleaned by a treatment plant, which is why keeping it pollution free is so important. Clean stormwater ensures our rivers, creeks, and wetlands, as well as local wildlife and fish, remain healthy for future generations.

Together we can keep our rivers and creeks healthy by:

- Shovelling shortly after it snows to prevent ice and reduce salt, sand, or gravel use.
- Following the manufacturer's instructions if using salt on your driveway or sidewalks, so you're not using more than needed.
- Sweeping up excess salt, sand, and gravel from your driveway and sidewalks.
- Continuing to pick up pet waste and litter off the ground and dispose of them in the right disposal bin.

What ends up on our streets, ends up in our rivers. For more tips and information, visit calgary.ca/stormwater.

Happy February!

Snow day? Let's turn it into an adventure. As a Chaparral Community Association (CCA) member, you can borrow snowshoes and walking sticks—perfect for exploring our winter wonderland. To reserve equipment, please email president@chaparralcommunity.com.

Calling All Local Businesses — Let's Team Up!

- Invitations to our signature community events, including the Easter Egg Hunt, End of Summer Bash, and Skating with Santa.

This affordable program is a great way to connect with Chaparral residents, build local visibility, and show your community spirit.

Interested? Email president@chaparralcommunity.com for more information.

Together, let's make Chaparral the best place to live, work, and shop.

Growing in Calgary: How to Learn and Get Inspired

Contributed by Jolene Ottosen for the Chaparral Green Thumbs

Calgary's unique climate—short growing seasons, cool nights, and those unpredictable chinooks—makes gardening here both challenging and rewarding. Whether you're settling into a new home or simply craving a fresh start in your yard, gardening in Calgary can feel daunting at first. The good news? You don't have to figure it out alone.

There are plenty of ways to learn, connect with local experts, and discover tips that make growing in our city not just possible, but enjoyable. From workshops and community gardens to inspiring green spaces around town, you'll find many opportunities to turn your gardening goals into reality.

Where to Learn and Get Inspired

- City of Calgary – Design Your Yard Workshops: A series of four evening Zoom sessions in February covering yard design, plant selection, irrigation, and composting.
- Local Nurseries and Garden Centres: Local nurseries and garden centres often host demonstrations and seasonal events—ideal for discovering new plants and getting expert advice.
- Inspiration Spots: Visit Reader Rock Garden for ideas on hardy perennials or escape the winter chill at Devonian Gardens downtown.

Join Chaparral Green Thumbs

I might be a little biased, but joining Chaparral Green Thumbs is one of the best decisions you can make if you love gardening—or want to learn. Located near St. Sebastian School, this welcoming community garden is ideal for both beginners and seasoned gardeners.

Members can rent a plot, share tools, and learn from experienced gardeners while experimenting without the pressure of creating a garden at home. It's also a wonderful way to meet neighbours who share your passion for growing.

Check the Chaparral Residents Association website for upcoming registration details or see below to email us directly.

What You Can Do in February?

Even in the heart of winter, February is an important month for preparation:

- Plan your garden: Sketch layouts, choose plants suited for Calgary's Zone 3 to 4 climate, and order seeds early.
- Start seeds indoors: Tomatoes, peppers, herbs, and some flowers do well under grow lights.
- Prune dormant plants: Fruit trees and shrubs can be trimmed while dormant.
- Prep tools and soil: Clean and sharpen tools, test soil pH, and add compost if conditions allow.
- Bring green indoors: Forced bulbs like amaryllis and paperwhites add an early taste of spring.

Gardening in Calgary may have its quirks, but with a little planning and the right support, it can be one of the most rewarding hobbies you'll ever try. Whether you start with a few patio pots, join Chaparral Green Thumbs, or dive into a full backyard makeover, every step brings you closer to fresh blooms and homegrown goodness.

As always, happy gardening—and here's to a beautiful growing season ahead!

If you are interested in joining us in the garden next season, we would love to hear from you! Please email us at chaparralgreenthumbs@gmail.com.

Staying in Relationships Thinking the Other Person Will Change, Now What?

by Nancy Bergeron, R.Psych. | info@nancybergeron.ca

In romantic relationships, the hope that someone will change is incredibly common, and very human. Here's the why:

We fall in love with potential, not just reality. Early connection, chemistry, and shared dreams can make us focus on who someone could be rather than who they consistently are.

Love activates optimism and attachment. Attachment bonds naturally create hope. Our nervous system prefers security over loss, so we hold onto the idea that change will come rather than face the pain of disappointment or separation.

We confuse influence with control. Healthy relationships do involve growth and compromise, but that can slide into the belief that love, patience, or suffering will eventually motivate change in areas that are actually character-based or deeply ingrained.

Familiar patterns feel safer than unfamiliar outcomes. Even dissatisfaction can feel safer than the uncertainty of leaving—especially if someone grew up adapting to others or earning love by tolerating discomfort.

Cultural narratives reinforce it. We're taught that love "fixes," that commitment means endurance, and that leaving equals failure rather than discernment.

Acceptance doesn't mean approval. It means clearly seeing who someone is right now, and asking: Can I live peacefully with this if it never changes? If the answer is no, the work isn't to force acceptance—it's to honor that truth. Real intimacy grows when we choose people for who they are, not who we hope they'll become.

Here are practical ways to shift your inner narration and cultivate acceptance of your partner—without abandoning your own needs or values (unless the situation is unsafe or abusive):

1. Separate “preferences” from “deal-breakers”

Narration shift: “I don’t like this” to... “This is uncomfortable, but not unsafe or violating.”

2. Replace fantasy with reality statements

Narration shift: “They would be perfect if...” to... “This is who they are today, consistently.”

3. Translate irritation into meaning

Ask: What does this trigger in me; fear, unmet needs, old wounds?

Narration shift: “They’re the problem” to... “This brings up something important in me.”

4. Use compassion without justification

Narration shift: “They shouldn’t be this way” to... “I can understand why they’re this way, without agreeing or excusing.”

5. Practice present-tense acceptance language

Use phrases like: “This is what’s here right now.” or... “I don’t have to solve this today.”

6. Stop future-bargaining

Narration shift: “Once X happens, then I’ll be okay” to... “If nothing changes, how do I feel about this life?”

7. Name your choice clearly

Narration shift: “I’m stuck” to... “I am choosing to stay for now, with eyes open.”

Choice restores agency and reduces resentment.

8. Practice grief, not resistance

Acceptance often requires grieving the partner you hoped for.

Narration shift: “This shouldn’t hurt” to... “Of course this hurts.”

9. Anchor acceptance in boundaries

Narration shift: “I have to accept everything” to... “I accept who they are and I choose how close I stand.”

10. Use curiosity over judgment.

Narration shift: “They’re wrong” to... “This is different from me—what does that mean for us?”

Message from the General Manager

February is here, and winter is in full swing. We hope you're making the most of the season—whether that means gliding across the ice or enjoying a day of sledding with family and friends.

One of this month's highlights is the LCRA Ice Fishing Derby. This annual event plays an important role in managing the lake's ecosystem by helping to reduce the perch population. As in previous years, the derby is open to the public for a small entry fee, while LCRA members can participate at no cost. It's always a wonderful opportunity to connect with neighbours and enjoy time outdoors together.

Fun Fact of the Month: February is the only month that can pass without a full moon—a phenomenon that last occurred in 2018 and won't happen again until 2037.

SKIING SISTERS

At the Sochi Winter Olympics on February 8, 2014, Canadian sisters Justine and Chloé Dufour-Lapointe claimed gold and silver medals in the women's moguls freestyle skiing event. They stood together on the podium, marking the first time Canadian sisters had shared an Olympic podium at a Winter Games. What a special sister bond!
