RESIDENT PERSPECTIVES

Carolyn's Corner: Plan Your Front Yard Edible Garden

Get ready to move your vegetable garden beyond the back yard this year. In many cases, the front yard may be the only place with the full sun needed for tomatoes, strawberries, squash, peppers, and other delicious edible plants.

Concerns about what the neighbours might think prevents some homeowners from planting in their front yard. Consider telling them your plans in advance with a pledge to keep the garden neat and attractive. Another concern in planting front yard edibles is that passersby might take the produce. You may lose the odd tomato, strawberry or handful of raspberries, but will be surprised at how respectful of your plantings people are.

From self-watering heirloom cedar planters to in-ground galvanized in all shapes and sizes, to small space layered garden boxes, you can grow above or in the ground. Squeeze something in between driveways. Create interesting patterns in the middle of the yard with geometric shapes. You might choose circles or a series of rectangles and squares to create a formal pattern like those found on old European estates. Utilize paths made out of brick, stump rounds, flagstone, or just mulch, to ensure safe and clean movement through the area.

When well-designed and well-tended, a vegetable garden can be attractive enough to serve as a focal point of the landscape. The key is providing structure for the layout. Remember that fruit trees, bushes, and herbs all combine to create 'stories' in the garden. Plant colourful vegetable varieties, flowering shrubs, striking perennials, spring bulbs, and ornamental grasses for year-round interest. Consider leaving a strip of grass along the sidewalk to blend into adjoining yards.... and to keep the veggie snatchers at bay!

Embrace the Outdoors

A huge thank you to Parks Foundation Calgary and the City of Calgary for helping our community Embrace the Outdoors and be able to spend time outdoors this upcoming summer. We now have a new picnic table facing the community garden which is also wheelchair accessible. Being able to sit outside and connect with community members and neighbours alike is so important. Thank you, Parks Foundation.

The Role of Community Associations – Did You Know?

In Calgary, there are 152 community associations that stand for almost 200 neighbourhoods. More than 20,000 community association volunteers contribute approximately 2.4 million hours (about 274 years) of public service every year to organize and host social, recreational, and educational programs. They manage important neighbourhood facilities and are also often points of contact for local land use changes—providing engagement with the community beyond what is required by the city. Perhaps most importantly, they give a sense of community.

Parkland Cares

Parkland Cares is a community-based organization of families and neighbours committed to helping others.

Come and help us build Care Kits! Until June 9, Parkland Cares will be partnering with our friends at Bonavista Cares for a new initiative. During Pride month, we will be collecting items and filling toiletry bags for The Skipping Stone Foundation. We are thrilled to be supporting this organization which provides a judgement-free safe environment for all.

Here are the items we would love to have you donate: soap, deodorant, shampoo/conditioner, combs/brushes, toothpaste/brushes, coffee gift cards, transit pass booklets, and small toiletry bags. Contact the community hall for drop off information.

As always, we invite community members to join our planning team, don't be shy – we welcome your collaboration and shared ideas for other great community building initiatives.

We look forward to having you join any of our upcoming events.

Parkland Babysitting Co-op

A long-standing community group known fondly as the Babysitting Co-op has been dormant for over four years. The final members recently met for coffee to discuss the questions: What was and what happened to the Babysitting Co-op? For those of you not familiar, the "Co-op" started in the mid-1970s with women swapping free daytime babysitting. Additionally, families made great community connections and food and peer support was generously shared during times of stress or emergency. Fast forward 40 years and the Co-op was still going strong, operating much the same as it had when it began. The purpose, clearly stated in the 2014 Bylaws was "to assist members in the care of their children while exemplifying the true spirit of cooperation." Women who were involved with the Co-op worked hard to create a meaningful group; procedures and policies were carefully drafted and updated as time went on.

Members were part of committees to address various aspects of the Co-op. Friendships became cemented for life. Kids played. Families felt a sense of belonging. As the final members of the Co-op, we worked hard, as many had before us, to recruit new families to join but there were no families, and no swapping of childcare. Over two years, we tried to spread the word to friends, neighbours, and strangers. Unfortunately, at the time we were not able to gather enough commitment to operate as an official group. We swapped childcare for the last time as a group of four or five families in the spring of 2018.

If this sounds like something you'd be interested in being part of, gather a few friends together (maybe even some dads or other caregivers!). If you'd like to peruse the old Policies and Procedures, Jenn Stone, at the Park 96 office, would be more than happy to make a copy for you.
