PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Keep up to Date – Sign Up for Email Updates

Things can and do change, and quickly. The newsletter is not frequent enough to communicate things that are changing on short notice in regards to the community association, the community centre, and community events.

So, in order for us to keep you up to date, please register your email address near the bottom of the first page of our website. Our email list is then updated to include your email address. The website is www.cliffbungalowmission.com.

Recruiting a Couple Positions

The Vice President and Heritage Director positions were not filled at the AGM. If anyone is interested in exploring these positions, please contact me at cbmca.president@gmail.com. I will sit down with you to explain what is involved to ensure you feel comfortable taking on these opportunities. We can also explore other volunteer options.

Spring Fling in the Works

We have started planning Spring Fling 2024. The date is Saturday, April 20 (determined by the Flames schedule). This is a fun event that includes music, food, refreshments, and a silent auction. This is a big event that requires volunteers to make it happen. Would you like to be involved with the planning? Contact Lucy at cbmca.socialevents@gmail.com.

History Book Available at Community Events

We have sold over 650 copies of our award-winning history book. Learn about the history of your community in a very readable text with lots of pictures and maps. Cost is still $30 (basically cost recovery). Copies are available at all events at the community centre.

Casino 2024 Was Successful

With the help of 25 people, we had a successful casino event on January 21 and 22. We will receive the net proceeds in mid-May. The list of people who volunteered is elsewhere in this newsletter.

Director of Communications
Cliff Bungalow - Mission Community Association

Sameena Darr is a digital media producer and business communications advisor based in Calgary, AB. With a strong background in the recording arts industries (film, tv, radio, digital streaming), she brings a dynamic that is crucial to collaborative performance projects. Her experience building cultural capital in Western Canada spans from The Benfil Centre for Arts & Creativity & Studio Bell home of the National Music Centre, to Calgary Economic Development & the Film Commissions of Alberta. As a solutions based thinker, her skills translate into a multitude of image based industries. Her passions include environmental sustainability, community mentorship and cultural reconciliation. Sameena is currently the Business Manager for Calgary Animated Objects Society (CAOS), International Festival for Animated Objects Society (IAOI) and Calgary Academy of Mask and Puppetry (CAMPI). She is also Director of Communication for the Cliff Bungalow - Mission Community Association (CBMCA).

DST kicks in on March 10 at 02:00 am! And yes, it's 'Daylight Saving Time' but we won't judge if you say 'savings' as it has become a popular variant in conversations. However, the perfectionists out there will likely remind you that the dictionary says the word saving is singular because it refers to saving time.

Enjoy Winter Downtown with Three Amazing Art Installations!

For the past three years, the City of Calgary's Winter City Design Competition has invited the design community to experiment with outdoor spaces and reimagine a winter experience that entices people to head out and explore the heart of Calgary. This year the City partnered with Chinook Blast to host the competition and received more than 30 submissions.

The winners — 1000Faces, (p)arc, and the Communication Design Lab — are artist collaborations whose submissions demonstrated their talent in reimagining public spaces during a Calgary winter to create captivating and interactive exhibits that push conventional boundaries.

"We are so excited about the 2024 winning teams and to partner with Chinook Blast," said Kate Zago, the City's project lead for the Winter City Design Competition. "1000 faces and (p)arc are two amazing examples of creative and immersive designs that will definitely have people talking."

Patti Pon, Chair of Chinook Blast and CEO and President of Calgary Arts Development shared the enthusiasm: "Chinook Blast is excited to celebrate the 2024 Winter City Design Competition winners with the City of Calgary. These exhibits embody the spirit of Chinook Blast, transforming winter into a season of excitement and exploration. Get ready to engage with these designs!"

1000 Faces: A Mesmerizing Symphony of Nature, Eau Claire Promenade Near 6 Street SW Until April 20

1000 Faces by Alejandro Figueroa

Renowned artist Alejandro Figueroa, winner of prestigious events like the VR contest at the Phi Center in 2016 and ArtWorkTO 2021, led the creation of this massive installation. Suspended on a 40-foot-high arch, it comprises 1,779 plexiglass tiles moving independently to mirror nature's rhythm. Canadian artist AMOR collaborated with Calgary-born artist Dillan (King Aurorus) to produce the original soundtrack that accompanies the sculpture. Figueroa says 1000 Faces showcases the transformative power of public art, blending contemporary creativity with nature's beauty and local cultural influences.

(p)arc: A Warm and Welcoming Experience, 228 8 Avenue SE

The second winning piece was designed by Jonathan Monfries and Madisen Killingsworth and is a tactile, interactive experience as visitors walk through the installation. Acting as a gateway to Olympic Plaza, the design focuses on sustainability, minimizing landfill material, and supporting inclusive artistic programming. With previous exhibits at Chinook Blast events and festivals like Works Art Design, Taste of Edmonton, and the Edmonton Street Performer's Festival, the (p)arc team continues to captivate audiences.

Fancy Meeting You Here, Fire Hall # 1 Courtyard (140 6 Avenue SE) Until February 19

The third winning entry was designed by the Communication Design Lab and has been imagined as a catalyst for engagement during the winter months. The project team (Shaheed H. Karim, Karim Manji, and Natasha Karim-Manji) explained the intent is to transform a dark and overlooked space in downtown Calgary with an interactive lighting design that provides a warm and responsive place for people to gather.

The interactive installation features changing patterns of light washing over the adjacent walls and surrounding space to create a warm and engaging atmosphere. Inspired by the beauty of winter and the need for connection, the piece welcomes guests into unintentional collaboration that enlivens an otherwise mundane space and transforms it into a whimsical place of serendipitous interactions.

Virnetta Anderson, The First Black Person Elected to Calgary City Council

by Heritage Calgary

Virnetta Anderson was an American Canadian community activist and politician, who was elected to Calgary City Council in 1974 as the city's first Black municipal councillor. She lived close to Cliff Bungalow-Mission, on 14 Street SW.

Born in 1920 in Monticello, Arkansas and raised in Hot Springs, Virnetta Anderson moved to Calgary in 1952 when her husband, Ezzrett "Sugarfoot" Anderson, was drafted by the Calgary Stampeders. One of the first Black players in professional football, Ezzrett was the only player to wear "00" for the Stampeders. He retired in 1955 and went on to become a mechanic, while Virnetta moved towards politics.

Anderson was deeply involved in church and community service in Calgary. She served in many roles within the United Church, was a member of the Mount Royal College Ladies' Auxiliary, co-founded and became president for Meals on Wheels, and volunteered as a board member for several organizations, including the United Way, Calgary Tourist and Convention Association, and the Calgary Centre for the Performing Arts.

Elected to Calgary's city council in October of 1974, Anderson was 54 when she decided to challenge the male-dominated city council and put her name forward on a ballot as a candidate for Alderman. The newspapers and the election ballot reported her as just a "housewife" among businessmen. Anderson went on to win the election and serve as Alderman for Ward 3 on City Council for the next three years.

Her projects as a city councillor included a fact-finding mission to Germany to research innovations in public transit as part of the early development of the city's CTrain system, serving on the committee that conducted the original feasibility study on the Calgary Centre for the Performing Arts, and opposing the extension of Sarcee Trail across the Weaselhead Flats.

Following her time on city council, Anderson was appointed to the Citizen Advisory Committee by then-mayor Ralph Klein and was named a Paul Harris Fellow by the Calgary Rotary Club in 1988.

Her family describe her as "a warm and loving woman of faith - full of wit and character: honourable, elegant, and stylish." Her social and oratorical skills bore a distinct stamp of southern charm. She was a woman of action - known for committing time and providing leadership to get things done. "V", as many old friends called her, was celebrated in the community for her many years as a tireless and enthusiastic volunteer, leader, and colourful contributor to her adopted city. Though her roots were in the US, she came to love the foothills of Alberta.

In September 2020, the City of Calgary announced that with the completion of the four-year heritage rehabilitation of historic City Hall, the Calgary Power Reception Hall (CPRH) is reverting to its original home in the 109-year-old building. With this change, the temporary CPRH located in the Municipal Building will be renamed the Virnetta Anderson Hall.

Note: Visualizations are conceptual in nature and subject to change through the Development Permit application process

Hello Neighbour

We are proposing a land use change at 531-541 20 Avenue SW & 2004 5 Street SW. The proposed change would enable a five-storey, multi-residential building with ± 71 new homes and a rooftop amenity space for residents. To support this development vision, the Multi-Residential – High Density Low Rise (M-H1f3.3h22) District is proposed to permit a maximum building height of 22 metres and maximum Floor Area Ratio (FAR) of 3.3.
