Greetings to residents of the Springbank Hill community.

At this time of year, our SBHCA board of directors review and update plans for our 3-year capital spending plan. As most of the funds are provided through our sponsorship of AGLC casinos, we are also required to get the approval from the province prior to spending any of these 'restricted' funds.

The following is an update of the current SBHCA capital spending plan. The status on planned projects is as follows:

Playground Structure Addition at Springbank Hill Community Park: The City of Calgary recommended against proceeding on this project as there is playground infrastructure across the street and the proposed playground could not be placed over the waterline that leads from the street to our new Community Garden. We are instead looking at the creation of a Truth and Reconciliation hill at the park that will honour First Nations people that live in Calgary and the surrounding area.

Water Feature Repair at Springbank Gate Park: We have unsuccessfully tried three times to obtain a grant to repair the waterfall from the Government of Alberta. The Government of Alberta declined all our applications and has identified that this is a City of Calgary responsibility. We have spoken to the City of Calgary on a number of occasions and have asked our Ward 6 Councillor, Richard Pootman, to engage the appropriate City staff on this project.

Montreux Rink Upgrades: Our Montreux Rink enhancements have been delayed as the new Letter of Occupancy agreement with the City of Calgary is not yet in place. We will not be able to build a permanent structure on the land as a school will be built on this land hopefully in the not-too-distant future. We are looking at portable options for a building and other enhancements. In the interim, we are continuing with plans to do some further grading and landscaping work this year. We also added some items, including a picnic table and bench.

Springbank Hill Rink Upgrades: Several upgrades have been completed, including grading and re-seeding as well as the addition of small boards and a rink liner to contain water, and the addition of picnic tables and benches.

The SBHCA board of directors will be updating this SBHCA capital spending plan over the next month. This will involve the identification of potential new projects. The updated plan will be shared with you later this summer and we would appreciate any feedback you may have as well as ideas for other future projects.

We wish you all the best for the 2023 summer season!

Living on Springbank Hill – Meet the Taylors!

by Shelly Smith and Rosanna Taylor

The Taylor family is being featured in our first edition of 'Living on Springbank Hill.' Thank you, Rosanna, for the great interview!

Eric and Rosanna moved into a home in Springborough in 2011. One reason that they chose Springborough (on Springbank Hill) is the proximity to the CTrain that was soon to be built for their commute to work. Also, Rosanna has a Masters in kinesiology from California Polytechnic State University. Her thesis was on 'Active Transportation to School,' through which she saw the great benefits of living so close to the soon-to-be-built Griffith Woods School. The proximity to the mountains was also a big bonus.

The Taylor family, which now includes three beautiful boys, love the outdoors. Rosanna and her boys have 'woods time' before school by walking through Springbank Community Park, even before it was officially a park. They all love hiking in Kananaskis, camping, and building bonfires to enjoy family time around. The Taylor family are members of the Junior Forest Wardens Sarcee Club, which provides their family with some tremendous outdoor opportunities.

The Taylors love Griffith Woods School, including the teachers and programming. The oldest son is very proud that he was part of the first group of students to attend the school when it opened, which is a very cool bragging right!

If Rosanna isn't busy enough with three boys, she also has her own business. She teaches private and group fitness sessions, pre/postnatal exercise, and dynamic aging.

Trust Your Instincts

by Shelly Smith

This article was first published in our October 2022 newsletter. We have republished it as a reminder to everyone living on Springbank Hill to be mindful of our surroundings.

We live in such a beautiful community, which in the past, has seen very low crime rates. I know that I have often felt that Springbank Hill is a cocoon, where nothing bad will ever happen. Well, times are changing, and we are seeing individuals coming into our community that may have a drug addiction or who are intent on committing a crime.

I had a wonderful conversation with Constable David Prajoux, our City of Calgary Community Liaison, about the number of instances that I have seen in our neighbourhood. He gave me some very wise advice, "If something doesn't look or feel right in your neighbourhood, it probably isn't. Trust your instincts!"

A great example of trusting one's instincts: a new neighbour, a busy mom and professional, was out on a Sunday morning walk by the stairs that lead down to Springbank Drive SW. She noticed a woman with a baby carriage coming up the stairs and wondered if she needed help. As she got closer, she noticed that the carriage was full of Amazon boxes. She realized something was wrong and called the police. The City of Calgary Police apprehended the individual thanks to my new friend's quick action!

Constable Prajoux also gives us this advice:

- If an emergency or crime is in progress, call 911 immediately.
- For non-emergencies, please call 403-266-1234.
- Do not approach the individual who may be committing a crime or may be suffering from drug addiction/in crisis.

So, be aware and be mindful of what might be happening in our community. If it doesn't feel or look right, it probably isn't. We have a beautiful community, let's keep it safe!

Lemon Chicken Salad

by Jennifer Puri

Nothing says fresh like lemons.

Believed to have originated about eight million years ago, lemons are a hybrid between a bitter orange and a citron. The lemon's ancestors are the mandarin orange, pomelo, and citron, but the lemon is the most used of the citrus fruits.

Lemons start small and green but turn yellow as they grow and ripen. A lemon tree, properly cared for, can live up to a hundred years and can produce six hundred pounds of lemons per year. Lemons play an important economic and cultural role in our world. They are used to make medicines, beauty products, candles, cleansers, preservatives, and even invisible ink.

Regarded as one of the world's healthiest foods, lemons are rich in Vitamin C and fiber and are an important ingredient in the preparation of food such as tarts, meringues, liqueurs, the flavouring and seasoning of poultry, fish, and of course lemonade.

The acidity of lemons is perfect for salad dressings as shown in this lemon chicken salad recipe.

Prep Time: 25 minutes

Cook Time: 35 minutes

Marinade Time: 6 to 24 hours

Servings: 3 to 4

Ingredients:

- 3 boneless, skinless chicken breasts
- 1/3 cup fresh lemon juice
- 2 garlic cloves, finely chopped
- 1 tbsp. Dijon mustard
- 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
- ¾ tsp. salt
- ½ tsp. coarse black pepper
- ¾ cup extra virgin olive oil
- 2 tbsp. honey
- 1 large head of organic romaine lettuce
- ½ pint of cherry tomatoes
- 1 cup seedless black olives
- 2 cups seasoned croutons
- 1 cup grated parmesan cheese

Directions:

- Prepare lemon dressing by combining lemon juice, garlic, Dijon mustard, Worcestershire sauce, salt, pepper, honey, and olive oil in a small bowl. Stir well or pour dressing into a small blender and blend for about one minute. Transfer dressing into a Mason jar for easy storage.
- Place chicken breasts on a cutting board and pat dry with a paper towel. Use a mallet to flatten any parts of the breasts that are more than ¾ inch thick. Transfer chicken breasts to a bowl and add 3 to 4 tablespoons of lemon dressing. Cover and refrigerate for a minimum of six hours or a maximum of 24 hours. Refrigerate remaining lemon dressing.
- Pre-heat oven to 400 degrees Fahrenheit.
- Remove chicken from marinade and place in a large non-stick frying pan. Allow the breasts to brown or caramelize, approximately two minutes on each side.
- Place browned chicken breasts on a baking sheet lined with foil. Bake uncovered until cooked, about 25 minutes or until a meat thermometer placed in the thickest part of the breast reads 165 to 170 degrees Fahrenheit. Remove from oven, cover, and let sit for about 10 minutes.
- In a large bowl, prepare salad by tearing romaine lettuce into bite size pieces. Add cherry tomatoes, olives, croutons, and lemon dressing to taste. Portion salad on four plates and add sliced chicken breasts topped with a little lemon dressing to each one. Sprinkle with parmesan cheese, garnish with lemon slices, and serve.
